

New Medication Study for Parkinson's Disease

We have a new study for Parkinson's disease patients. The study is of an experimental drug for Parkinson's disease.

Each person will participate in the study for about 3 1/2 months.

You may qualify for this study if:

- you are over 30 years old
- you have Parkinson's disease and are experiencing periods during the day when your medicines wear off
- you have been taking levodopa for Parkinson's disease for at least 1 year, along with another medication for at least 4 weeks

Principal Investigator

Marian Evatt, MD

For More Information, Please Contact:

Rebecca McMurray, RN
Clinical Research Nurse
404-712-7013

Emory University
Department of Neurology
12 Executive Park Drive, NE
Atlanta, GA 30329